SUMMER 2025

one eighty five™ is a Brooklyn-based wood shop offering a variety of hand-crafted journals, sketchbooks, postcards, and stationary gifts. Founded by artist and veteran photojournalist Robert Stolarik, one eighty five offers eclectic, one-of-a-kind journals that inspire creativity, individuality, and offline imagination. The cover art for each journal is an art piece on its own. No two covers are alike, as each cover is crafted in the découpage style then aged by the artist. The journals are created with current events, politics, news, and the modern popular psyche in mind.

Since launching in 2018, one eighty five pieces have been commissioned for museums, sold in galleries, and featured in boutique gift and home decor stores across the country. Notably, pieces were commissioned by the Philadelphia Museum of Art and curated specially for their 2021 Jasper Johns exhibit and their 2022 Guiseppe Penone exhibit.

Artist and award-winning photographer Robert Stolarik was a regular contributor to The New York Times for twenty years. Born in New York City, Robert began his journalism career covering conflicts and general news in the United States, Europe, Latin America, and the Balkans. For the fifteen years, Robert focused his reporting on social and criminal justice issues including groundbreaking coverage of stop-and-frisk policies, Hurricanes Katrina and Sandy, the Haitian Earthquake, and the unrest in Ferguson and Baltimore.

Robert designs and builds every work he sells in his basement studio. His unique aesthetic combines rustic wares with vintage tones. While Robert creates with his Brooklyn home in mind, his craftsmanship is influenced by an extensive career that has taken him all over the world.

Book covers are distinctively crafted by layering paper, newsprint and mull - a hardened cheese cloth used to reinforce spines- onto the wood. Then each cover is burned and hand-sanded, revealing and exposing the richness of the layers below.

The hand-torn books are hand-sewn with waxed Irish thread, Belgian Linen cloth and cord. Each sheet of the Hahnemühle Biblio paper is hand-torn from large sheets, then registered and sorted by hand to expose the deckled edge.

The signatures are then glued to their covers using an acid-free PVA adhesive.

The closed-spine journals are made from Italian bound paper, silk headbands and linen unraveled cord. Each of the spines is attached separately by layering paper, newsprint, and mull to reveal a unique color accent that differs from the front and back covers.
